AMERICA FOR AMERICANS.

THE SHIBBOLETH TO BE SOUNDED BY A NEW POLITICAL PARTY.

Foreign Panperism and Crime to Be Excluded--Proposed Bars to Immigration That Will Keep Out Undesirable Population--A Call for a Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.--"America for Americans." "Know Nothingism without religious intolerance." In a nutshell, these are the cardinal principles of a new political party which is to be born in this city during the constitutional centennial next month. The doctrine is old, and the party is to rise Phoenix like from the old Know Nothing and American parties during a patriotic celebration.

For about six months private meetings have been held in the office of J. M. Munyon, at No. 1,017 Chestnut street. A careful canvass was made of the entire country, but the intentions of the projectors of the new party were not made public until a few days ago. They resolved themselves into the "American National committee," and yesterday they issued a call for a convention, to be held on September 10 and 17 in St. George's hall, Thirteenth and Arch streets, in this city.

The officers of the central organization and chief spirits in the movement are William Horace Hepburn, chairman, J. M. Munyon, secretary; J. M. Davis, assistant secretary, and Dr. R. W. Kirby, treasurer. Chairman Hepburn is a well known lawyer. He was never prominently identified with any political party, although he was generally supposed to be a Democrat. He is estimated to be worth half a million. J. M. Munyon is a publisher, J. M. Davis is a journalist and Dr. E. W. Kirby, who is a prominent physician, has heretofore been identified with the Prohibition party and claims the distinction of having nominated John P. St. John for the presidency in the convention of 1880.

There are many others connected with the movement whose names are withheld from publication. Secretary Munyon told a reporter to-day that many lawyers and business men had allied themselves to the new party, but they did not want their names published for business reasons.

Most of the canvassing has been conducted by circulars, one of which is as follows: "We, the undersigned citizens of the United States, realizing the dangers which threaten the welfare, if not the perpetuity, of this republic, hereby associate ourselves under the name of the American party, for the purpose of protecting our American institutions. And to this end we hereby pledge ourselves to promote the following specific objects:

- "First--The careful restriction of immigration.
- "Second--A thorough revision of the naturalization laws.
- "Third--Reserving lands for American citizens only.
- "Fourth--The protection of Americans in all their rights, on land or sea, in all parts of the world.
- "Fifth--To restrict and guard the right of elective franchise.
- "Sixth--To impose a high tax on all foreign immigrants.
- "Seventh--To abolish polygamy in the United States immediately and entirely.
- "Eighth--To enact and enforce such laws as will eradicate intemperance.
- "Ninth--To develop the resources of the country by a wise system of internal improvements.
- "Tenth--To protect and promote the American system of free common schools.
- "Eleventh--To adjust the relations between labor and capital on a permanent basis of equity and justice."

The statement was made yesterday in a Philadelphia paper, and also in a gift enterprise journal, that General Master Workman Powderly and ex-Governor Alger, of Michigan, are members of the new party. It is not true. Neither of the gentlemen has signified his intention of joining the movement, although Mr. Powderly is reported to have said: "I would like to see a wall five hundred feet high built around this nation's territory, through which no one might pass unless he had money enough to keep him three years in this country."

So far as the restriction of immigration is concerned the new party would impose a tax of $500 upon every person who lands in the country, and in addition he would be required to obtain a permit from foreign consuls, based upon an accurate biography, to be furnished by himself and by reputable citizens of the neighborhood in which he had lived. Thus paupers, criminal and political agitators could be excluded. A foreigner would have to be a resident of this country twenty-one years before he could vote. It is argued that the naturalizing of a foreigner after a few years' residence gives him an advantage over a man of American birth.

"We have no desire to stir up bad feeling," said Secretary Munyon, "but we think the time has come when the American laborer should be protected. We have laws to protect the merchant and manufacturer from European competition, but we have absolutely free labor. Thousands of men are idle and tramping about in search of work, others are striving to better their condition, and yet the great European horde continues to pour in. Our industrial system is unhealthy in consequence of this immigration. The mechanic from abroad comes here and joins a union. May he displace an American, but he prevents an American boy from learning a trade under this system of restricting the number of apprentices. We oppose no religious sect, but we will insist on the maintenance of the public schools. Our western lands should be given to Americans only, and intemperance will be eradicated by improving the whole social construction. The most advanced prohibitionists are beginning to see that the enactment of summary laws will not cure the evil. Men must be improved morally."

"How is the restriction of immigration going to bring about all this? It won't eradicate it entirely, of course; but look at the saloon keepers, the criminals and paupers. You will find that a large percentage of them are foreigners."

"How do you propose to adjust the relations between labor and capital and improve the country?" was inquired.

"Those plans have not been fully formulated. We are proceeding carefully and cautiously in framing the principles of the American party. In a movement of this kind there is great danger of being overloaded with objects. One man who wanted to assist us had forty-nine distinct reforms he wanted to advocate."

"Have you made any estimates of the strength of the movement?" "Yes; we estimate that we will have about 1,600,000 at the very least. There are many patriotic societies which will join us immediately, although they will still preserve their distinctive organizations. The senior Order of American Mechanics numbers about 140,000, the junior order about 100,000, the order of Minute Men about 600,000 throughout the rural districts of the east and west; the Senate also has about 600,000. The Patriotic Sons of America have several hundred thousands, and the Sons of Revolutionary Sires can probably muster 10,000 more. In addition to these organizations a great many Grangers will join us."

"From which of the two old parties do you expect the heavier gains?" "Well, that is hard to tell. We will draw from the Democrats in the south and the Republicans in the north. We have been very active, and there are organizations in almost every state. I cannot give you the names of the state officers, but they will be announced in due time."

"No, the organization will not be secret, only we think it best not to publish too much at present. We have substantial encouragement in the shape of campaign funds, and we ought to have about twenty clerks in various parts of the country under salary. Many of our members are wealthy, and I think we will have abundant means for the legitimate expenses of the organization."

It is expected that the convention which will be held in September will be attended by about two hundred accredited delegates and about five hundred representatives from all sections of the country. William Horace Hepburn will preside. The convention is not called for the purpose of nominating candidates, but it will be in the nature of a mass meeting for the purpose of formal organization. States, counties and towns will be organized, and next July it is proposed to hold a National convention and nominate candidates for president and vice president.

What Powderly Says. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 25.--Regarding the published statement that he was a member of the new American party, Mr. Powderly said yesterday, "I have not joined the new party and have not given anybody permission to class me among its members. While I am an American I am not interested in reviving 'purely American ideas. I have no desire to rekindle the camp fires of the purely American, nor do I wish to see the re-establishment of the ducking pond or the burning of witches."

Negroes in Danger of Starving. COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 25.--It is probable that the loss on the rice crop will exceed $100,000, the estimate made two weeks ago. Discouraging news continues to come in from the flooded districts in lower Carolina, along the Santee and Savannah rivers. There is a very serious question now before the rice planters. It is what disposition is to be made of the negroes on their plantations until the first of next year. There is no way for them to earn a living. In the meantime they will have to be supplied with food. Many planters are unable to do this, as they have been ruined by the freshet, and it will be necessary for the people of the state to contribute to their support. If nothing is done for these negroes during the next four months they will starve or wander to other sections. The loss of the rice field laborer means the abandonment of river plantations and the destruction of property worth hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Extraordinary Run of Salmon. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.--Advises received from the state that the run of salmon at Klamath cannery on Katiak Island, Alaska, has been extraordinary. Fish came along in great numbers during the middle of June, and by July 12th the employees had caught and canned fish enough to fill 30,000 cases. The company expects to put up at least 70,000 cases of fish this season. Their entire catch has already been disposed of. In Cook's inlet the cannery hands are working night and day, and at the Mushojek river establishment a similar condition of affairs exists. The large Alaska pack of this season will in a great part compensate for the small amount put up by the Columbia river and other canneries.

Farmers Fatal Quarrel. ANNA, Ill., Aug. 25.--While at a shooting match twelve miles from here, Saturday night Henry Lumpkins, a farmer, attacked Wiley Smith, another farmer, knocking him over the head with a heavy club. Smith fell senseless. Isaac Smith, a son of the assaulted man, then took a hand in the row and hit Lumpkins over the back of the head with a water jug, knocking him down and stepping on him. Both men sustained probably fatal injuries. The assault was the outgrowth of another fuss of the same character about four years ago. Lumpkins was arrested but it at home on bail. Young Smith has not yet been arrested.

Milwaukee Wis., Aug. 25.--At a Polish wedding in the suburbs last night the boys of the neighborhood pelted the house with stones. When August Duak, a guest, attempted to disperse them the crowd set upon him and belabored him with sticks and stones. His lifeless body was found in the street with his neck broken. The assailants are unknown.

California's Governor Dying. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 25.--Governor Washington Bartlett has been stricken with paralysis. There is little hope of his recovery. All his relatives are at his bedside. Governor Bartlett is a Democrat, and was elected to the office last November. In the event of his death he will be succeeded by Lieutenant Governor Waterman, who is a Republican.

Big Gasser at Mount Oreb. BATAVIA, O., Aug. 25.--A rich vein of gas was struck at Mount Oreb, a little village in Brown county, just over the Clermont line, last Saturday, at a depth of only 260 feet. It is claimed that the yield is over two hundred pounds to the square inch.

President Cleveland's Dispatch. WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.--The president's attention was called to-day to the matter lately appearing in the New York World to the effect that he was not properly supporting the commissioners appointed to examine the affairs of the Pacific railroads, and giving as proof of the charge what was alleged to be the contents of the president's answer to Chairman Pattison's dispatch, proposing assistant counsel in the proceedings against Leland Stanford. The president said: "I have no time to read or reply to the misrepresentation of opposition newspapers and am not at all afraid that they will succeed in deceiving the people as to the policy or course of the administration touching the matters in question; but if there is a man, woman or child who would feel easier after reading the dispatch which I really did send to Governor Pattison, they shall have it."

The following is the dispatch: "EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, Aug. 18. "Robert E. Pattison, Chairman United States Pacific Railway Commission, San Francisco, California: "Upon your statement that in your judgment counsel should be employed, I authorize and approve such employment."

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

One Farmer Fatally Cuts Another. MT. STERLING, Ky., Aug. 25.--At Farmers' station yesterday, in an altercation between Marion Frazer and Jeff Evans, the former was cut in the abdomen. His wound will probably result fatally. Evans has thus far evaded arrest. Both are farmers.

Seamen's Strike in Prospect. CHICAGO, Aug. 25.--Seamen's Assembly No. 6,170, Knights of Labor, last night passed a resolution demanding an increase of wages to $2.50 per day from the Vessel Owners' association. Seamen of the association are now receiving $1.95 per week. A tie-up is threatened if the demand is not conceded.

Relative of Lieutenant DeLong Dead. READING, Pa., Aug. 25.--Manasse DeLong, relative of Commander DeLong, of Jeannette fame, died to-day. He accumulated a large fortune in the tannery business, starting as a poor boy and learning the trade and afterwards opening extensive establishments in New York and Philadelphia.

DEAD IN LOVE.

A Young Girl Robs Her Father and Elopes With Her Lover.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 25.--The German Lloyd steamship Rhine, which arrived at this port to-day, had on board two young German people who are head and ears in love with each other, and who left the staid old Fatherland to seek the bliss of love in a cottage in the far west. They are Louis P. Groning, aged nineteen years, and Catherine Schreih, aged nineteen years old, and they belong in Bremen, where Catherine's father is a wealthy contractor and builder. Their short career of romance was ruthlessly broken to-day by two detectives, who arrested them upon the arrival of the steamer Rhine. A few days ago Mr. G. A. Von Lengen, the German consul at Baltimore, received a cable dispatch from Bremen, stating that the above named persons had eloped and sailed for Baltimore; that the girl had stolen 13,000 marks from her father, and asking for their arrest and return to Bremen. The consul notified Police Marshal Frey, who had Capt. Freeborger and George Seibold, of the detective force, in waiting at Locust Point when the Rhine arrived.

The young lovers were soon singled out and taken to police headquarters, where they were searched. Eighty-four hundred marks and $570 in United States bank notes, equal to 2,250 marks, or a total of 10,080 marks were recovered, the balance of the 13,000 marks having been spent in the purchase of passage tickets and wearing apparel. By arrangement with the German consul, there will be no charge laid against either of the youngsters. They have been turned over to the consul's care, and will remain at his residence until the departure of the Rhine on August 31, when they will be shipped back to their native city and angry parents. They are utterly disconsolate over the disarrangement of their plans and seem afraid to face their parents after running away.

Miss Schreih told her story in the German tongue as follows: "Louis and I have known each other since childhood. My sister is married to Louis' elder brother, and Louis and I are engaged. We left Germany with the intention of going to Nebraska, where we would have been married, bought a farm and settled down. The 13,000 marks that I took from my father I regard as my portion. I would have received that much and more too by his will, and I didn't think it any harm to take it in advance."

THE PROHIBITIONISTS.

New York and Pennsylvania Both Holding State Conventions.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 25.--The state Prohibition convention opened here at noon to-day with a full representation of delegates from all the counties in the state. Notwithstanding the fact that the past legislature placed on record its views regarding the liquor traffic by the passage of a high license bill and other restrictive measures, the Prohibitionists propose to put a full ticket in the field and will formulate plans for increasing the Prohibition vote in the legislative districts. Leaders of the other parties admit that the temperance workers are better organized in the state than ever before and that they are likely to make a surprising showing in the fall election.

Pennsylvania's Convention.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 25.--The Prohibitionists are holding their state convention here to-day. Candidates will be nominated for the offices of treasurer and supreme judge, and the usual resolutions denunciatory of the liquor traffic will be adopted.

Remarkable Game of Base Ball.

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 25.--When the Mansfield shut out the Cantons Monday and only gave them three hits, the best game was played ever seen in this city, but yesterday's game had features never before equalled in the history of base ball in this country. With Charles Bohn in the box for the Mansfield, not a base hit was made, and by an errorless fielding game by the home team, not a single Canton man reached first base. Only twenty-seven of the Canton players faced the Mansfield pitcher during the nine innings, and nine were struck out by his matchless work. The fielding by the Mansfield was without an error, and marked by magnificent work. The score was 4 to 0.

Ready for a Mob.

BATAVIA, O., Aug. 25.--Clermont county jail, which still contains the recently convicted William Meeks and Charles and William White, was guarded by ten armed men last night. This precaution was taken by Sheriff Lloyd as a startling rumor reached him that a body of the White boys' friends from Pendleton county, Kentucky, their former home, would attempt a rescue. No one appeared, however. The guard will be maintained until after the prisoners are safely confined in the penitentiary. The preliminary hearing of Meeks and the White boys on the charge of burning Judge Cowen's barn will be had to-day before Mayor Prather.

Cutting Affray at a "Stag" Picnic.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Aug. 25.--Little Dear and Sam Thornton, two young men of this city, at a "stag" picnic at Murray's Woods, yesterday, had a drunken quarrel over a small sum of money in connection with a keg of beer, which had been bought for the occasion. Thornton cut Dear seriously in the back, side and breast. Thornton has been arrested.

Killed by a Horse.

JAMESTOWN, O., Aug. 25.--Sewell Burr, son of William Burr, of Bowersville, while at work in a stable this morning, was kicked by a horse just above the heart and killed instantly. He was a school teacher and had just been engaged to teach the fall term at Bowersville and removed there yesterday. He was repairing his barn at the time of the accident.

Mrs. Cleveland En Route Home.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.--Mrs. Grover Cleveland arrived here early this morning on the Fall River line boat Pilgrim. She was accompanied by Gen. Greely and wife and several friends. At 8:30 the party entered a special car on the Pennsylvania railroad and left for Washington.

Teachers' Institute at Bryan.

THURSDAY EVE., AUGUST 25, 1887.

LEXINGTON wants a "rogues' gallery" and a "professional detective." My! What next?

These cool nights do not seem to agree with Mr. "Amos Keeter" at all. "Every dog has his day," and this pestiferous creature will soon have to emigrate to a warmer climate.

It's a big sum, $16,153,000 is, to distribute among the Government's pensioners in one day, but that's the amount paid out of the Treasury on the 23rd of this month for pensions alone.

THERE are eight railroad enterprises being gotten under way, whose objective point is the immense mineral region about Big Stone Gap, in the mountains that divide Virginia and Kentucky.

THE Owensboro Messenger has a big libel suit on hand, but it is not giving itself much worry over the matter. It is an easy thing to bring such suits, but generally it is a rather difficult matter to win them.

THE news from the rice crop in South Carolina and Georgia continues rather discouraging. The damage from the recent heavy rains and flood in that section already exceeds $100,000, and the end is not yet.

THE Union Labor party at Portsmouth has nominated a full ticket to be voted for at the coming election. These candidates will probably fare as well as the Labor candidates did in this State on the first Monday in August.

NOTWITHSTANDING the heavy payments for pensions and other accounts this month, the Government's receipts exceed the expenditures by $3,500,000. Just that much added to the already enormous sum locked up in the Treasury.

THE Daily Press of Lexington has a libel suit on its hands. It stated a few days ago that the stolen poli-books that have caused such a rumpus at Nicholasville had been found at the house of one of the good citizens of Jessamine County. It was intended as a joke, but the good citizen didn't relish such a joke, and has sued for damages.

AT Frankfort, P. D. Richey, the confidence man from Missouri who tried to swindle Colonel Pepper out of several fine horses, had a hearing before Squire McDonald, who held him over in $10,000 bond to answer the charge before the next Circuit Court, in default of which he was remanded to jail. This is a bigger bond, we venture to assert, than is ever required in nine-tenths of the cases of manslaughter throughout the State.

THE statement comes from Washington City that "directly and indirectly the people of America pay a tax of $3,000,000 a day, $90,000,000 a month, and $1,995,000,000 a year. This is indeed a great country to stand such a tax as this. It is also kind in the people to send to Congress men who vote to keep such a heavy burden on their backs." Let the people alone. They are fond of protection, and never mind a little burden like the above.

SOME of the Republican papers in alluding to the recent election in this State speak of the falling off in the Democratic vote. They ought to know what they are talking about, but it seems they don't. There has been no falling off in the Democratic vote at all. If we are correctly informed, Buckner polled 9,000 votes more than Knott did four years ago. The party is as strong to-day as it has always been. There has been no stampede from the ranks. The reduced majority is explained by the fact that the Republicans increased their vote in a greater ratio than the Democrats.

IT is rather singular but nevertheless true that the last assessment in this State shows an increase of 1,000,000 acres of land over former estimates, the total number of acres being reported by the State Board of Equalization at 25,000,000 for the present year. It indicates that assessors have been negligent and careless in the performance of their duties.

From the State Board's report referred to it is found that the cash value of Fayette County land is placed at $70 per acre; that of Bourbon and Woodford at $60; of Jefferson, $60; of Kenton, $58; of Campbell and Mason, $50; of Boyle and Jessamine, $45; the balance of the counties running lower; Breathitt, Perry, Leslie, and Letcher at $1.50. The land of the entire State is assessed at an average of 60 per cent of its cash value.

Trade Dollar Redemption.

The time allowed by the act of Congress for the redemption of trade dollars will expire in a few days—on the 3rd of next month. If you have any of them on hand, now is the time to get rid of them. The amount redeemed up to date is reported at a little over $7,400,000. The number of these dollars estimated to be held in this country by the Director of the Mint, in his report to Congress, was $7,039,000, and the slight excess in redemptions is accounted for by importations from China and Japan.

"The leprous distillment, whose effect holds such an enemy with blood of man, That, swift as quicksilver, it courses through the natural gates and alleys of the body," and causes the skin to become "barked about, most lazarlke, with vile and loathsome crust." Such are the effects of diseased and morbid bile, the only antidote for which is to cleanse and regulate the liver—an office admirably performed by Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery."

A DESTRUCTIVE fire visited Lawrenceburg, Ky., the other night, burning a livery stable and other buildings, and roasting fourteen horses. Loss, $26,000; insurance, $14,500.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.
 Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free trial bottles of this standard remedy at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., 21 American Ohio.

Some Yachtmen's Tricks.

"Do you remember," said one of the company, "when the Al Dager and the Willie Klein were the up and down champions of the fifteen foot open boats, as they called them then? They had many races, and as a rule the Klein came out a winner; in fact, she was the fastest boat of her class on the river, and it got to be so that after a while nobody would race with her. Well, one time she and the Dager were racing, and the wind died out entirely, and the tide was about on the turn. The men in the Klein noticed, much to their surprise, that the Dager was moving along, slowly, to be sure, but fast enough to put all idea of their winning out of the question. They knew the Dager was fast, but how any boat could sail without wind or tide was beyond their ken. They also noticed that there was a man in a boat about 300 yards ahead of the Dager, but did not connect that fact with the race, wherein they were wrong, because this same man in the row boat had a great deal to do with the result, and in this way when the wind died out this same man and boat passed the Dager, and as he did so dropped a spoon of silk into her. One end of the silk he made fast to his boat and the other was attached to the Dager. When the silk was all paid out he began an easy stroke of the oars and the silk was strong enough to pull the Dager along without breaking, while the Klein was left standing still."

"Yes I heard of that trick," responded another of the company, "and it reminds me of another that was so famous in its day. I mean the habit the crews of some of the 'tuck ups' used to have of each man providing himself with a pie plate which he stuffed into the bosom of his shirt. If the wind died out the pie plates were then brought into requisition as paddles. If the referee noticed the trick and warned them about it the plates would be dropped into the river and the hands held aloft in innocent protest. I have seen this done many times and always successfully, for the plates being held on the edge would sink to the bottom as soon as released and no sign of their presence be left."—"Observer" in Philadelphia Call.

A Destructive Blast.

The "West End" was the scene of considerable excitement about noon yesterday. King & Fitzgerald, railroad contractors, have lately resumed work on cutting down and grading West Third street, using the dirt in making a fill at the mouth of Beasley Branch.

At the hour named yesterday a heavy blast consisting of several kegs of powder was touched off. The explosion shook the neighborhood, and frightened the people in the vicinity. When the dust and smoke cleared away it was found that two frame cottages on the point about fifty yards from where the blasting had been made were badly wrecked. Several large stones had passed through one of the buildings from the south to the north side, and other big rocks had struck the roof passing through two floors and landing in the cellar. The plastering was shaken off in both buildings, and other damage done, amounting in the total to $400 or $500. Fortunately all the people living in the cottages escaped without injury.

David Otis and family reside in one of the cottages. A "baby crib" from which Mr. Otis' infant child had just been removed was completely demolished by one of the heavy stones.

The contractors have a number of carpenters repairing the damages.

The new gas works are just north of the wrecked buildings, and the Citizens' Gas Light Company has served notice on the members of the City Council and the city officials that the city will be held responsible for any damage to said gas works resulting from the blasting.

The Teachers' Institute.

The Teachers' Institute yesterday was called to order by Professor B. F. Williams, in the absence of Superintendent Galbraith. Prayer was followed by a short discourse by Mr. Hixson as to the most northern point of the United States. The subject of "Written Arithmetic" was taken up and elicited a warm discussion, participated in by Messrs. Galbraith, Hixson, Smith, Williams and others.

Mr. Hixson then followed with an interesting account of the famous battle of Blue Licks.

Pennmanship was discussed by Messrs. Williams, Berry and others.

The afternoon session was largely taken up with a discussion of "The Qualifications of Teachers," "Primary Geography," and "The Several Systems of Diagraming."

The Mason County Teacher's Association elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—L. W. Galbraith.
Vice President—Miss Ida Richards.
Secretary—W. T. Berry.
Assistant Secretary—C. J. Hall.

The organization of the association will be completed this afternoon.

A Queer Verdict.

Charlotte Ann Smith, colored, aged about seventy years, was brought in yesterday from Washington and taken before Judge Coons for trial on a writ of lunacy. The jury who tried the case were summoned by Deputy Marshal Dawson, who gathered together the first twelve men he came across. Following is the list: C. L. Sallee, Ben D. Parry, George R. Gill, A. A. Wadsworth, A. D. Cole, J. T. Bramel, Dr. C. C. Owens, E. L. Worthington, A. L. Norton, Dr. G. M. Williams, David Wood and Colonel Frank S. Owens—five lawyers and two physicians being among the lot. After listening to the evidence, an animated discussion ensued, the jury finally reporting a verdict that Mrs. Smith was "legally a lunatic, medically, eccentric." She has been deranged for about three years, her insanity resulting from old age.

Of Interest to Benevolent Societies.

Judge Barr rendered a decision in the United States Court at Louisville of great importance to benevolent societies. J. J. Albert, a barber, joined the order of Chosen Friends, and obtained a $3,000 insurance certificate. Afterward his hand became paralyzed, and he could not work as a barber. He put in a claim for $3,000, and was refused on the ground that the disability was not of a nature to entitle him to the money. Albert brought suit in the Federal Court against the Supreme Council of the order to compel payment. Judge Barr decided that the person must be totally disabled from gaining a livelihood in any ordinary manner before he could be entitled to insurance. As Albert has since kept a restaurant and clerked in a shoe store, he was capable of making a living, therefore not entitled to money.

Michael Niland Acquitted.

Michael Niland, a former citizen of Maysville, but now living at Corpus Christi, Texas, shot a man some eighteen months ago in that city for insulting Mrs. Niland. The shooting was done under great provocation. Mr. Niland surrendered himself at the time. His second trial for the offense ended yesterday. A telegram to Mr. E. W. Fitzgerald this morning says the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty." Mr. Niland's friends and relatives will be glad to learn of his acquittal.

Hiram Chenoweth, Harry C. Curran, James Barbour, Percy Lee Mannen, Garrett Wall, Will Cochran, Jamie Cochran, Perrine Jenkins, Neil Leach, and Lloyd Watson.

THE Christian Church at Winchester, Ky., is all torn up over the "organ question." It appears that several months ago an organ was placed in the edifice for use in the Sunday school, and a strong majority have been in favor of using it in the church. This caused great indignation among the anti-organists, and nearly two dozen of the latter members called for their letters on last Sunday, the seceders proposing to unite with the several Christian churches in the county. The organ question has always been a vexed one with that denomination, and up to this time the organ had not been used in the church worship.

Stock and Crops.

Sixty carloads of stock have been shipped from Paris in the past week or two.

The fruit crop of Hardin County this year is estimated at $50,000.

The Elizabethtown News thinks Hardin County will not raise over 25 per cent. of an average crop, and that is mostly in spots where showers of rain have fallen.

A box kept well supplied with ashes in which charcoal is found should be within reach of hogs all the time at this season of the year. Like all gross feeders, they are apt to be troubled with acidity of the stomach, and the coal and ashes correct this.

If the air in the cellar is too damp the dampness can be removed by placing a peck or so of unslacked lime in an open box on the floor. A peck of unslacked lime will absorb about seven pounds, or more than three quarts of water, and in this way the air in a cellar can always be kept dry.

A correspondent of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican writes: "The poorest commodity in farming, with few exceptions, is farm labor, and those that have the most are the most afflicted. The old fashioned hired man, that took an interest in his employer, and worked from sun to sun when it was necessary, is almost obsolete. A new crop of farm laborers is greatly needed."

OBITUARY.

Jane Taylor was born in the town of Washington, Mason County, Ky., on the 15th day of November, 1832, being the oldest child of Robert and Elizabeth Taylor. She was united in marriage with Robert F. Taylor, on the 1st day of March, 1854. Shortly after marriage she joined the Presbyterian Church at Washington, and has ever since remained a communicant member of that church. She departed this life at her home in Collesburg, Lewis County, at half-past three o'clock on the morning of the 17th instant, after a brief illness, leaving her beloved husband and four sons and three daughters to mourn their loss. The principal traits of character which distinguished this christian woman were: First, an unshakable, unswerving faith in the goodness of God and in the promises of salvation; and second, an untiring, nurturing devotion to the welfare of her family, with an entire abnegation of self. Her favorite scripture and the one which she most often read to her children was the 90th Psalm, "Lord thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations." Her favorite hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee." Thus the Lord calls his children from the cares and troubles of this world to their eternal rest on high.

A CONDENSATION OF ALL IMPORTANT FOREIGN NEWS.

The Condition of the Ameer of Afghanistan—His Country Soon to Be Divided Between England and Russia—The Thirteen Montreal Passengers Saved.

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Reuter dispatch from St. Petersburg describing the physical condition of the ameer of Afghanistan as critical is not generally credited here. Chiefly for the reason that the statement comes through Russian channels. It is, however, well known that the Afghan ruler has been ill for several months and the story may be true. Whether it be true or not, it would seem that the career of the ameer has rapidly been drawing toward a disastrous termination from other causes than his demise, and the death of Abdurrahman Khan at this time would only hasten by a few months the inevitable partition of his domains between England and Russia.

The latest accounts of matters in Afghanistan upon which any reliability can be placed indicate that the recent victories gained over the Ghilzais by Gholam Hyder, while they have enhanced the prestige of the ameer and dispersed a force that in time threatened the existence of his rule, have by no means confirmed the stability of the ameer's government. The Ghilzais are scattered, it is true, and it is also true that they are being pursued northward by the victors, but the ameer's troops will find it impossible to bring them to bay and it is only a question of time when their own retreat will begin.

The ameer's arrogance since his late successes are reported to become boundless, and he has felt himself strong enough to get rid of several of his officers whose ambition or popularity he has for a long time feared. It is more than probable Taimour Shuh and the others whose action has been obnoxious to the ameer, paid their court to Aysub Khan, in view of the not improbable contingency that his star might at no remote time be in the ascendency, and this was well known to the ameer, although until recently he dared not resent their course. The ameer has undoubtedly incurred the hate and excited the fears of other prominent chiefs, and these worthless will henceforth have no decided assurance of their safety, unless the condition of the ameer is correctly stated, in which case they will pray for his death, and make the best terms they can with his successor, or the English or Russian occupiers of the country, as the case may be.

The conscription in the Afghan army of able bodied men, which has been ordered in the towns, in lieu of money payments for exemption, is a method of levying taxes that has aroused the deepest resentment among the inhabitants of Cabul and other places. The Afghan artisans and laborers have the greatest horror of military service, and will part with their last coin to escape it, avaricious as they are to the last degree, while those who are unable to pay must submit to enforced enlistment; hence the men who are forced into the ranks cherish the deepest hatred, both for the ameer and their wealthier neighbors.

Russian agents were never more plentiful or active in Afghanistan than now, and the enticing prospect of an undisturbed future, with all their fighting done by proxy is alluringly held out to the discontented Afghans. What employment the ameer can find for the large army he has now in the field it is difficult to conjecture if his successors are as decisive as they are reported to be and without employment his soldiers may prove more dangerous to him than the slave of the lamp was to its unskillful worker, Aladdin's Avaricious enemy, the magician.

Fishermen Fight.

OSTEND, Aug. 25.—There was a riot here yesterday between English and Belgian fishermen, which grew so violent that the police charged the combatants with clubs. This had no effect, and guns were furnished the officers. A bayonet charge only served to turn the fury of the mob upon the police, and a fierce melee followed. The police then charged the mob in earnest, and put it to flight, leaving over a score of wounded. This morning two of the wounded, who were pierced through and through with bayonets, died, and several more are dying. Another riot occurred here to-day, when a number of the Ostend fishermen seized the English boats. When ordered to abandon them they refused, and the gunboats thereupon fired at them, wounding three and killing one.

ANOTHER B. & O. HORROR.

An Engineer and Fireman and Fifteen Emigrants Killed.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 25.—A report has reached here of a fatal collision which occurred at 8 o'clock this morning at Easton's siding, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, twenty-five miles east of this city, between a west-bound emigrant train and an east-bound freight train.

The emigrant train was descending a heavy grade, and rushed into the freight train with a fearful crash, badly wrecking both engines and instantly killing Engineer Al. Smith and Fireman Arbutnot, of the emigrant train, and severely injuring Engineer Pat. Fitzgerald, of the freight train, all of this city. It is rumored that fifteen of the emigrants were killed and many injured. A wrecking train and physicians left this city for the scene. On account of there being no telegraphic facilities at Easton's siding, further particulars cannot be obtained.

Another Account.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 25.—A special to the Leader says that forty-five persons were killed by the collision on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad at Easton's Siding, W. Va., this morning.

The Hecla Mine Still on Fire.

HANCOCK, Mich., Aug. 25.—The steamer James Fisk, Jr., has on board 900 carboys of oil of vitrol for the Calumet and Hecla mine, to aid in generating gas to extinguish the fire. There are on route 500 boxes of sal soda for the same purpose. Yesterday the thermometer registered 105 in the mine and serious results are yet expected before the fire is extinguished. The company is injecting great quantities of steam and carbonic acid gas—25,000 pounds of sulphuric acid and an equal quantity of bicarbonate of soda being daily consumed. The shaft will be closed indefinitely. Some mining men assert that, with the exception of the Black Hills end, the mine will not produce a pound of copper for four months.

Rescued From a Watery Grave.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 25.—While canoeing in the harbor yesterday Robert W. Riddle, of Philadelphia, a deaf mute, was thrown into the water by the craft overturning. The wind blew the canoe away. Capt. Bunce and Lieut. Pendleton, of the United States steamship Atlanta, were returning to the vessel from shore in the captain's gig, when they saw the man struggling in the water. The gig was steered for him, the men pulling lustily. Mr. Riddle was taken from the water just as he was sinking. He was insensible and did not recover for some time. Mr. Riddle is a brother of Mrs. Thomas A. Scott.

The Patriotic Irish Exiles.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—At a meeting of Irish patriots last night, Professor Mozzeroff in the chair, the condition of Ireland was discussed, and the opinion prevailed that the time had come when the vast sums sent from America could be put to better use than supporting English landlords. It was unanimously resolved to form a new organization to render Ireland more effective assistance in the near future. The new organization is to be known as the Patriotic Irish Exiles. Professor Mozzeroff was elected president. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution and prepare a manifesto.

Police Sergeants Wages Increased.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—The police commissioners voted to-day, by 3 to 1, Commissioner Voorhis being the negative, to approve Senator Plunkett's bill that increases the pay of police sergeants from $1,600 to $2,000. Many transfers of sergeants, roundsmen and patrolmen were made by the commissioners, so many that they suggest a general shaking up of the city force.
